This information is aggregated and used to help us provide more useful information to our customers and to understand which parts of our products, services, and Platform are most effective and popular. This will help Trafalgar Wireless improve our service. Aggregated data is considered non-personal information for the purposes of this Privacy Policy.

We may collect and store details of how you use our services. This information may be used to improve the relevancy of results provided by our Platform. In limited instances, to ensure the quality of our Platform over the Internet, such information could be associated with your IP address.

We may create anonymous data records from Personal Information by excluding information (such as your name) that makes the data personally identifiable to you. We use this anonymous data to analyze request and usage patterns so that we may enhance the content of our services, improve Platform navigation and collaborate with the research professionals in the industry. We reserve the right to use anonymous data for any purpose and disclose anonymous data to third parties in our sole and absolute discretion.

If we do combine non-personal information with Personal Information, the combined information will be treated as Personal Information for as long as it remains combined.

Cookies and Other Technologies

Our Platform, email messages, and advertisements may use "cookies" and other technologies such as pixel tags, clear GIFs, and web beacons. Cookies are small bits of information that the Platform places on your computer's hard drive. These technologies help us better understand user behavior, streamline the user experience, tell us which parts of our Platform people have visited, and facilitate and measure the effectiveness of our services and Platform altogether. We treat information collected by cookies and other technologies as non-personal information. However, to the extent that internet protocol (IP) addresses or similar identifiers are considered Personal Information by local law, we also treat these identifiers as Personal Information. Similarly, to the extent that non-personal information is combined with Personal Information, we treat the combined information as Personal Information for the purposes of this Privacy Policy.

You can choose to limit the transmission of this data in your account preferences or via your web browser. If you do not accept cookies or other similar technologies, you may be unable to utilize the full functionality of the Platform.

We also use cookies and other technologies to remember Personal Information when you use our website, online services, and Platform altogether. Knowing your contact information, hardware identifiers, and information about your computer or device helps us reduce bugs and coding errors to provide you with the best customer service possible. Collecting user usage data allows us to prioritize the aspects of our Platform that are used more frequently and to generate statistics about how the Platform is being used.

As is true of most internet services, we gather some information automatically and store it in log files. This information includes Internet Protocol (IP) addresses, browser type and language, internet service provider (ISP), referring and exit websites and applications, operating system, date/time stamp, and clickstream data.

We use this information to understand and analyze trends, to administer the Platform, to learn about user behavior on the Platform, to improve our products, services, and Platform, and to gather demographic information about our user base as a whole. We may use this information in our marketing and advertising efforts and services.

Pixel tags enable us to send email messages in a format which customers can read, and they tell us whether mail has been opened. We may use this information to reduce or eliminate messages sent to customers.

In some of our email messages, or as a feature of the Platform, we use a "click-through URL" linked to content on our Platform or the website of third parties. When customers click one of these URLs, they pass through a separate web server before arriving at the destination page on our Platform. We track this click-through data to help us determine interest in particular topics and measure the effectiveness of our customer communications. If you prefer not to be tracked in this way, you should not click text or graphic links in email messages or on the Platform. If you click on another third-party link, you will be directed to that third party's website. The fact that we link to a website is not an endorsement, authorization or representation of our affiliation with that third party, nor is it an endorsement of their privacy or information security policies or practices. We do not exercise control over third-party websites. These other websites may place their own cookies or other files on your computer, collect data, or solicit Personal Information from you. You are subject to the privacy policies of those third parties where applicable.

Tracking

We track our customers over time and across third-party websites to provide targeted advertising and we do not respond to Do Not Track (DNT) signals. If you set the DNT signal on your browser so that third parties (particularly advertisers) know you do not want to be tracked, we will not recognize the signal and take appropriate actions.

Third parties that have content embedded on our Platform, including our websites or applications, may set cookies on a user's browser and/or obtain information about the fact that a web browser visited a specific website from a certain IP address. Third parties may be able to collect other personally identifiable information provided or collected by us from our websites and applications.

Notice for Minors

We may offer interactive services which allow you to post content to share publicly or with coworkers, friends, and family. At any time, you can delete or remove content you have posted using the deletion or removal options within our Platform. If you have questions about how to remove content in a specific service or if you would like additional assistance with deletion, you can contact our support team directly. Although we offer deletion capability for our services, you should be aware that the removal of content may not ensure complete or comprehensive removal of that content or information posted through the Platform.
